The Daily Gazetteer.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29. 1737.

To the DAILY GAZETTEER.

SIR,

I AM a plain Countryman, whom Buſineſs, not Curioſity, has brought up to this City: Yet, as on ſome Occaſions, I have been oblig'd to attend at the Coffee-houſes, like others, I have diverted the Hours of my Waiting, by reading the News-Papers. Among many which I never obſerved in the Country, there was one had the Title of Common Senſe, or The Engliſhman's Journal. I proteſt, I was equally ſurprized, and concerned, to think that my Fellow-Subjects were fallen ſo low, in the Opinion of any, as to need to be taught, what, I preſumed, every one was Maſter of, Common Senſe. But, indeed, my Surprize was conſiderably abated, when I found that moſt of the People in the Room—many of whom ſeem'd to be grave Citizens—were in want of it. I was perpetually call'd upon by the Waiter, to know if I had done with it; and the Impatience was ſo great at every Table, that I was glad to give it up, after a very curſory Peruſal. Perhaps it was owing in a great meaſure to this, that I could diſcern no Traces of Common Senſe in this Paper. There was a great deal of Common Place, as it is called, ſtrangely thrown together, with much Ill-Manners, Scurrility, and Miſapplication. If the Author thought ſuch Stuff deſerv'd the Name, or if any Readers could be weak enough to imagine it to be, Common Senſe, I can only ſay, Common Senſe in London, and in the Country, is not the ſame thing; and this Author, and his courteous Readers, were made for one another. But there was one Paragraph I cannot omit to take Notice of particularly; and have ſince tranſcribed for Publick Obſervation; as, inſtead of Common Senſe, it is replete with Nonſenſe, Abſurdity, and —— Something, evidently, much worſe. It is this: 'They write from Pool, of the '11th Inſtant, that the Chitty, of London, Capt. Long, 'had at laſt got his Lading of Corn, and is ready to 'proceed on his Voyage to Barcelona. 'Tis gene-'rally believed, that the Country People ſupply'd 'him with that Commodity rather out of Fear than 'Good-Will; being intimidated by the Arrival of '150 Men, Part of Brigadier Mountagu's Regi-'ment of Foot, commanded by Capt. Edwards, who 'are ſent thither in order to ſuppreſs the Diſturbances 'that have lately happen'd in thoſe Parts.' Surely, this Author muſt imagine all the World void of Common Senſe, if he thinks ſuch a Jumble as this can ſerve the diſhoneſt Purpoſes, it is plain, he intends by it. He would baſely inſinuate, that the 150 Men of Brig. Mountagu's Regiment, were ſent down to force the Farmers to part with their Corn: And yet, leſt at any Time Notice ſhould be taken of the Suggeſtion, he would cover it by the Abſurdity of ſaying, that thoſe Men were ſent down, in order to ſuppreſs Diſturbances. For the Sake of Honeſty and Common Senſe, let this Writer inform us, of what Nature were the Diſturbances which happened in the Country, before theſe Soldiers came: What! were the Farmers deſirous or averſe to diſpoſe of their Corn? Did the Populace riſe to make, or to hinder them from Shipping of it? And I muſt ask you, Sir, who are hired, as they ſay, to write for the Miniſtry, and, of Courſe, muſt be let into the Secret, Had theſe ſame Soldiers Orders to force the Corn out of the Farmers Chambers; or to keep the Mob quiet, who would have obſtructed their Traffick with it? This mean Blunderer can never come and ſay, he meant the Mob were intimidated by the Soldiers, and ſo ſuffered the honeſt and induſtrious Farmers to diſpoſe of their Corn; for he has affirmed in expreſs Words, 'that the Country People ſupplied him (i. e. Capt. 'Long) with that Commodity, rather out of Fear 'than Good-Will,' &c. The Soldiers then, muſt, according to him, have gone down to compel, or frighten, the Country People into the Sale of a Ship-load of Corn; and, if the Mob were any Way affected by this March, it muſt alſo be, that they would have obliged the reluctant Farmers to do the ſame, but they had not Power to do it, till the Soldiers came to help them. This Paragraph, in my poor Opinion, is every Way detach'd from the Neighbourhood of Common Senſe; and one Way, and, I think, the only one it can be thought to direct, is to that of Falſhood, Scandal, and Sedition. I did think that moſt of the Writers againſt the Court had, in their ſeveral Ways, tho' ſometimes a little oddly, intended the Good of the Commonwealth in general; but I begin, now, to fear I have been miſtaken: But, here, it is impoſſible I ſhould be ſo. This Writer ſtrikes directly at the Peace of the Community; and, by glaring Falſhoods, and execrable Suggeſtions, would, at once, deſtroy the Trade, Happineſs, and the very Being of it. I cannot help thinking that the Story from Wrexham is a Fiction of his own; and I am the more confirmed in the Opinion, from an idle Concluſion in the Relation, 'That—'his Notions of Religion——'tis thought was the 'Occaſion of his Deſpair,'——inſtead of Diſtemper, which Charity would have ſuggeſted; and the vile Poetry that comes after it: For there is one Line I may venture to pronounce, tho' I do not pretend to be a Critick, no Man, but the Author of Common Senſe, could have been guilty of.

'In vain, my Weakneſs, Lord, forgive.

YOU will not do Juſtice, Sir, to the Governors, or to the Governed, of this Nation, if you do not expoſe, in his proper Colours, a Wretch ſo notoriouſly an Enemy to both.

I can only add, that we Countryfolks have, yet, ſo much Common Senſe, as to ſee this Fellow wants both it and Honeſty; and that, were he to make his Appearance among us, he ſhould have as much Kicking, in downright Earneſt, as would give him a Diſtaſte to it for ever hereafter.

June 18, 1737. — I am, SIR,
Your Humble Servant,
RUSTICUS.

Edinburgh, June 21. Upon the 2d Inſtant was held a General Meeting of the Society in Scotland for propagating Chriſtian Knowledge, being a ſtated quarterly Meeting, according to the Royal Letters Patent, at which time they received and conſidered the Report of their Committee, as to their Management, gave further Directions as was judged neceſſary; and it was found that the Number of the Society's Schools are at preſent 113, in which by the Accounts of their Correſpondents thro' Scotland, there are near 4000 Scholars, and beſides theſe the foreſaid Society have 4 Miſſionary Miniſters in America: This General Meeting had a very pious Letter from his Excellency General Belſcher in New England, with relation to the foreſaid Miſſioners, which gave Satisfaction as to his great Concern for promoting the Knowledge of Chriſt; there was alſo produced a Report of the Society's Correſpondent Members at London, about Contributions and other Affairs there, and in America; and the foreſaid General Meeting did unanimouſly make Choice of the moſt Hon. William Marquis of Lothian to be their Preſes, in Place of the Right Hon. the late Lord Preſident of the Court of Seſſion, deceaſed, and aſſumed ſome more Members. There being many Demands for more Schools in remote Places of the Highlands and Iſlands, all were left to the Conſideration of the Directors, as the Society's Funds ſhall increaſe.

On Tueſday laſt the Reverend Synod of Lothian and Tweddale met upon Dr. Wiſhart's Affair, when there was produced to them a Repreſentation from the Doctor, complaining, That the Charge againſt him was very unfairly laid by the Reverend Presbytery of Edinburgh, that no Paſſages in any of the two Sermons, upon which they found their Accuſation, were produced by them in Words which he could own for his, but only ſome Pages of them referred to, and the Charge laid againſt him was put in their own Words, in which he hoped to make it appear in due Time, that his Meaning was groſsly miſrepreſented, nor were the particular Expreſſions of the Confeſſion of Faith or Scripture, which he ſhould be guilty of contradicting, ſet down under the ſeveral Articles; that the Articles of their Charge laid in their own Words, the Pages they refer to in the two Sermons for Proof of them, the Articles of the Confeſſion of Faith they are alledged to contradict, were all heaped together, without any Attempt to refer under every Article of the Charge to the particular Words of the Sermons on which it is founded, or the particular Paſſages of the Confeſſion of Faith it is alledged to be oppoſite to, which left a Perſon called to his own Defence, under particular Difficulties and Diſadvantages: And therefore craving, that the Reverend Presbytery, or his Accuſers, whoever they were, might be obliged to point out the Errors alledged to be maintained by him, in his own Words, to diſtinguiſh what they alledged to be aſſerted by him, from the Conſequences they pretend to draw from his Words, to produce the expreſs Words of the Confeſſion of Faith and Scriptures alledg'd to be contradicted by him, and to ſtate particularly upon each Article of the Charge the Oppoſition between his Words and thoſe of our Standards: Or craving that the Committee themſelves might take this Method in laying before him any thing they judged blameable in his Sermons; upon which he would be ready to make particular Replies.

It was urged by ſome of the Members, that the Presbytery ought to be called upon, and obliged to ſtand Dr. Wiſhart's Accuſers: But others of the Committee argued, that by their Inſtructions they were appointed to make Inquiry into the Sermons themſelves, and had no Power of obliging the Preſbytery to ſtand as Dr. Wiſhart's Accuſers; only that by the Inſtructions from the Synod all Parties were allowed to attend, and to give what Light and Aſſiſtance they could to the Committee; accordingly this was intimated by the Moderator from the Chair; the Committee having cauſed to be read over the Presbytery's Charges againſt the Doctor, the Pages of his Sermons and Paſſages of the Confeſſion of Faith, and Scriptures they refer to, found that the Charge was laid by the Presbytery in the Manner the Doctor complains of, and were unanimouſly of Opinion, that the Method propoſed by him was reaſonable, and therefore appointed a Sub Committee, to draw out the Doctor's own Words, which may appear to contain any Thing erroneous, and to ſet down upon each Article the expreſs Words of the Confeſſion of Faith and Scripture, to which any thing maintained in the Sermons may be oppoſite; and to prepare this againſt the next Meeting of the Committee, which they appointed to be the 27th of July next.

In which are a large Number of beautiful Cuts of the different Postures, Attitudes, and Methods of Managing the Great Horse, engraven originally by the Direction and Order of his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, which on Account of the small Number that were printed off, became so exceeding scarce, as to be sold for Fifteen and Twenty Guineas.

Printed for John Brindley, Bookseller to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, in New Bond-street.

N. B. The Original Plates (which have been carefully preserved by the Right Hon. the Earl of Oxford) to oblige the Curious, his Lordship has been pleased to permit them to be made use of for this Edition.

For the PALSY,

An infallible and speedy Cure, by one inward Medicine, being a most pleasant Chymical Tincture, to be taken in Drops,

WHICH gives instant Relief in any Paralytick or Nervous Indispositions, proceeding from what Cause soever; and also in all Weaknesses, or Decays of Nature, whether from Old Age, or occasioned by continued Illness of Body, or any Irregularities of Living, such as hard Drinking, &c. whereby Nature is sorely weakened, and often in a Manner quite spoiled.

This infallible Chymical Tincture is endued with such specifick Qualities, that it instantly enters the Nerves, the principal Seat of all Complaints of a Paralytick Kind, restores natural Heat and Strength to a Degree consistent with a good State of Health; and in a very little time perfectly cures all Paralytick Weaknesses of the longest standing; and also the severest or worst Effects of it either on old or young, such as shaking or trembling of the Limbs, Numbness, or even Deafness on any Part of the Body; as has been happily experienced by great Numbers of both Sexes, and all Ages, before this Publication.

As for any Weaknesses or Decays of Nature, by Age or otherwise, this Tincture has not its Equal; it is so gentle in Operation, as not to give the least Disturbance in taking, but in its Effects so strong and prevalent, that all Decays or Weaknesses of Nature, whether Paralytick, Convulsive, or any other Indispositions attending the Head and Nerves, are instantly relieved, and daily mended; so as in a very little Time a perfect Cure is accomplished.

It is exceeding pleasant to take, safe in Operation, and perfectly agreeable to the Stomach and Palate, greatly helps Digestion, causes a good Appetite, revives and strengthens the whole Human Frame so entirely, as that nothing in the World was ever yet known to come near it, for the safe and regular Cure of all Paralytick, Convulsive, or other Nervous Indispositions.

It is sold by special Order of the Author, only at Mr. Markham's Toyshop, the Seven Stars under St. Dunstan's Church in Fleet-street, for 3 s. 6 d. each Bottle.

An immediate and never-failing CURE for Deafness, Thickness of Hearing, Noise or Pain in the Ears, &c.

BY a noble Chymical Preparation, the most excellent Medicine for this Purpose that ever was known, which so far exceeds any thing ever yet published, or in de Use of, that there is no Comparison, its Virtues are beyond Expression, and cannot be truly known but by Experience: Words come short of its just Praise.

It is a certain, and, as it were, an instant Cure for Deafness, Thickness of Hearing, Noise or Pain in the Ears, from what Cause soever, or of ever so long standing, having cured vast Numbers of Persons of both Sexes, and all Ages, that have been in a manner totally deaf, after all other Means and Medicines external and internal, by Advice, and also by Publication, have failed, with the greatest Ease and Safety, and to their utmost Satisfaction and Wonder; for,

In a peculiar Manner it strengthens, softens, and loosens the Drum of the Ear, which by being dried, or shrivel'd, is often the first, and chief Cause of every Complaint of want of Hearing, or of Noise, or Pain in the Ears, &c. To remedy all which, this noble Medicine is a true Specifick, that never fails perfectly to cure all possibly curable Cases, after all Means and Medicine have utterly failed; which is more than can be said of any other Thing in the whole World besides itself: Any Cold in the Head, or any Hurt by congealed Matter in the Ears, it instantly cures.

It is sold for 3 s. 6 d. each Bottle, by the Author's special Appointment, at Mr. Richards's Tinshop, the Sign of the Black Horse and Star, in Fleet-street, near Fleet-Bridge; and no where else in England.
